

Global Emerging Leaders Program 2023

A photograph of a paved road winding through a dense forest. Sunlight filters through the trees, creating a dappled light effect on the road and surrounding foliage. The trees are tall and leafy, with a mix of green and brown tones. The road has a double yellow line in the center and a white line on the edge.

This program evolved from the success of the Canada & UK Emerging Leaders Program,
a co-creation by Forbes executive coaches
Mimi Moore and Julian Saipe during the COVID pandemic.

After a 12-month series of programs with participants from the Government of Canada and blue-chip firms from US, UK, Europe and beyond, the impact of the program was such that a decision was made to open this possibility to emerging leaders globally.

Overview

The virtual program has been designed for busy and ambitious executives who are looking to discover their potential as workplace leaders, to uncover their biases, to unlearn habitual behaviours, and to generate greater purpose within their teams and organisations. The program also celebrates cross-cultural relations and draws awareness to the diversity and inclusion that is part of our nature.

Includes:

Three half-day virtual workshops facilitated by Forbes leadership coaches.

Individual coaching sessions with ICF certified coaches.

Self-facilitated small group discussions and peer-coaching.

Associated reading lists and learning journal.

Benefits

Bring authenticity and presence to the workplace.

Develop and improve leadership skills.

Uncover performance gaps and potential.

Discover balance, resilience, compassion, and self-care.

Learn with a diverse group and build an international network of support.

Leave with an action plan for a fulfilling future.

Who is this for?

Are you looking to grow in your role?

Are you carrying the expectations of your department or your organisation?

Whilst our humancentric approach to leadership development transcends geography, company profile and individual status, our cohort of participants usually comprises senior managers from large organisations from both the public and private sectors. We also run programs for C-suite executives.

If you are keen to grow as a leader and to connect with your full potential, you can enrol today.

Testimonials

The Emerging Leaders Programme was absolutely brilliant. I approached the course with an open mind but was still blown away by just how mind-expanding the content and the sessions were. I would highly recommend both Julian and Mimi as coaches and I will be recommending this course for others in my business.”

Business Partner Manager, Global Gaming Company

This course was highly engaging, productive and useful and the tools, knowledge and network of incredible connections I have made will serve me well going forward. I feel honoured and grateful to have had an opportunity to take this course. I am a stronger leader and person as a result, both professionally and personally. Thank you for your time, kindness and wisdom.”

Executive,
Global Affairs Canada

The Emerging Leaders Programme provided me with very useful knowledge, insights and tools to have a better understanding on how to better lead within an organization, how to build a strong and autonomous team, enabling better results. I would recommend it to anyone who is looking on how to increase their effectiveness of communication and interaction with people within an organization.”
